EVERY SCHOOL DAY COUNTS.

One of the greatest indicators that a student will succeed in school and beyond is their attendance. No matter what role you play, let's make school attendance a priority now, so students will succeed later. How?

Join us - a coalition of parents, students, educators and community leaders - and Be there. For every student you know!

Yes, I am committed to helping my child get to school every day by:

- Making school attendance a priority
- Having a morning routine that helps my child get out the door on time
- Making plans for an alternate transportation when need arises
- Scheduling doctor appointments and vacations around the school calendar
- Reserving sick days for real sickness
